SUMMIT PLATEAU

It is essential to keep well back from the edge. Serious accidents can occur. This is especially important during high winds or when there is snow. Snow on the summit can make the landscape look different and there are often overhanging cornices that are ready to break away.

NORTH EAST FACE

All around the summit there is steep dangerous ground such as the 611m (2000ft) cliffs on the NE face. Keep to the main route. When you leave the summit ensure you are returning by the correct path.

FIVE FINGER GULLY

The top of the Five Finger Gully has a deceptive gentle slope which quickly leads to steep dangerous cliffs. Pay attention and ensure you are heading in the correct direction. Many accidents occur in this area.

RED BURN

On your way up the path, when you reach the area near the lochan, make sure you follow the mountain track AND NOT THE PATH TO THE NORTH FACE.

SAFETY INFORMATION FOR WALKING THE MOUNTAIN TRACK

JUNE-SEPTEMBER

REMEMBER: TAKE A SUITABLE MAP AND COMPASS

Recommended Maps are:

Ordnance Survey
Landranger 1:50,000 Sheet 41 or
Explorer 392 1:25,000
Harvey Ben Nevis Map 1:25,000

Please consider your general health before setting out. Many accidents occur coming down the mountain as the descent can be as arduous and tiring as the ascent. Please take this into consideration and plan your trip accordingly. The total return distance is 16km (10miles) and you will be climbing to a height of 1344m (4,406ft). The start of the path is relatively easy but becomes increasingly rocky, arduous and exposed. Many people are too optimistic about their level of fitness and do not fully appreciate how difficult they may find the walk. Plan to set off early in the morning. The walk usually takes at least 6-8 hours to complete. Avoid returning in the dark. Leave a route card with either the police, your accommodation provider or in your car. This should contain your start and finish times, your intended route and what to do in the event of you not returning. It would also be useful to leave your mobile phone number. Check the local mountain weather forecast. This can be obtained by phoning the Met office on 09068 500 441. Weather forecasts are also displayed in local establishments and on information boards at the start of the path. The weather can be very changeable and the summit temperature can be significantly colder than at the base of the mountain. Cloud and hill fog cause poor visibility, you will be dependent on accurate navigation with a compass and map.
